

The Laurie R. King/Lavendier Press “A Venomous Death”

This gorgeous 14x20” broadside has an original Laurie R. King 650 word short story about Mary Russell, Sherlock Holmes, and bees, illustrated with a woodcut by Katie Wynne, letterpress printed by Lavendier Press and signed by both author and artist. It is available direct from Lavendier Press (mlavendier1@cox.net) for $38 (numbered edition) or $125 (lettered edition.)

Or, you can win one. Send us your The Language of Bees receipt from an Independent Bookseller, along with your name and address (email address is fine) and you will be entered for a drawing of the above broadside (without the obscuring banner!) on May 15th, 2009.

If you don’t have a receipt, send your name and address anyway—although since this is intended as a way of supporting my friends at Indy bookstores, I’d appreciate it if you’d buy something of equal value from them.
